Reverent and Respectful

Eager For Education

Dependable in Face of Duty

Self Reliant

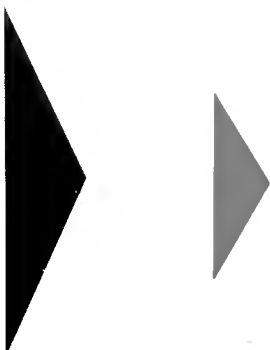

Kind and Courteous

Impartial in Judgment

Neat in Appearance

Sincere in Every Endeavor

Throughout the year
we live by this code . . .

As a Loyal Student of North Side High School, I will try to be

Reverent and Respectful,

Eager for education,

Dependable in face of duty,

Self-Reliant,

Kind and courteous,

Impartial in judgment,

Neat in appearance,

Sincere in every endeavor,

for only by upholding these ideals,
will I be a true Redskin.

THROUGHOUT THE YEAR . . . . .

of 1957 we saw a boom in enrollment at North Side, with 55 classrooms, 1750 pupils, and 69 teachers. North Side after thirty years is a North Side in transition. The faculty made various changes, and 13 new teachers were added to help teach the varied subjects.

Another problem arose from the increased enrollment—the present cafeteria proved to have inadequate dining facilities. For this reason, plans for the new cafeteria were initiated this year.

The Junior and Senior proms, with Hawaiian and Oriental themes respectively, were moments of excitement. Seniors took the initiative and presented their prom at the Van Orman Hotel.

But whatever the alterations experienced, this year at North Side continued to reflect the same general spirit and principle. For varied reasons each student will fondly remember these four years which took place in the classrooms, the cafeteria, the auditorium, and the halls of North Side.

We now invite you to come with us for a glimpse of school life THROUGHOUT THE YEAR at North Side.

We Preserved Customs

With autumn, comes the traditional Get Acquainted Day. Here, Sue Walters, Nadine Mace, Bob Cummins, and Elaine Olds are signing each other's cards outside Johnny's.

One-Way stair ways are a fairly new tradition at the "Dome". This student council project was put into effect two years ago, but only recently were the signs added. Sandy Gehring and Kay Keirns are leaving for lunch via the "down" stairs.

An old, old tradition is that of seniors leaving the auditorium first. Peeking into the auditorium we see them enjoying their special privilege after an assembly. All underclassmen eagerly look forward to the day when they may leave first.

and Traditions

This year at the Valentine dance sponsored by Junior Red Cross, Dave Bash and his date, Nancy Starkel, were chosen King and Queen. Here we see Mrs. Nusbaum and Joe Johnson crowning the royal couple.

Supervising a group of energetic Frosh are Jack Davison and Ed Reader. This group is helping to create a familiar September sight, as they apply elbow grease to one of the hot rods around the dome.

Class elections have taken on a new look this year—in fashion that is. A common sight was the many tags on the shirts and skirts of the students.

We Worked

A part of North Side's personality is its students. They obtain individual traits by doing various part time jobs. Each job helps to bring out certain characteristics of the student, that may aid him in becoming a more responsible citizen. Many students got jobs that were connected with their future vocation. Others worked only for money with which to buy all those extras.

Afternoons that were free from classes were often spent by clerking in a store,

At Parkview Hospital several Redskin girls may be found doing part time volunteer work. Here Sharon Houser, Judy Nichols, and Barbara Benner diligently clean needles in Central Supply.

Pictured around the table are Junior, Alice Rudensky, and her family. They are celebrating "The Day of Atonement", or Yom Kippur.

Above Left: "And there he saw them with the treasure . . ." Martha Miller reads to Sandy Heath. This part time job of baby sitting is very popular because it is an easy way of making pin money for all those extras.

As in previous years many North Siders were members of J. A. At the annual Trade Fair we or acting as a secretary for some businessman. Seniors, particularly, worked on free afternoons so they could save money for college. Practically everyone busied himself with some sort of summer job.

Junior Achievement served as a means by which students could observe the way business is run. Many Redskins took an active part in this organization.

Thus the personality of North Side's student body is formed.

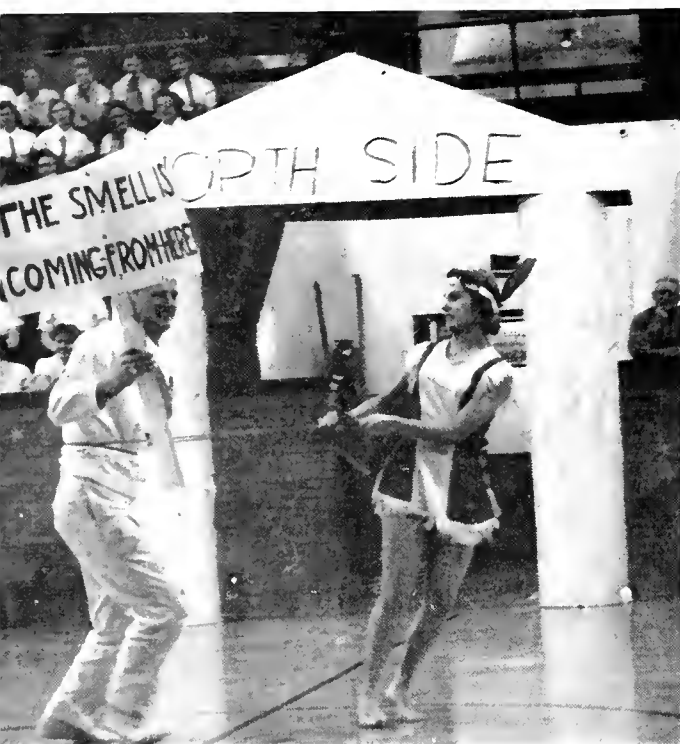

Many gardens and lawns look trim because of the efforts of North Side boys such as Bob McGregor. One more lawn and he'll have enough cash for that very important date!

see Judy Keirns, Rosalee Kesler, Bill Arnold, Nancy Stiver, and Judy Johnson selling their products.

After school jobs are becoming more and more popular among today's teenagers. Cookie Lang, Barbara Hickman, and Darwin Johnson can be seen working at Roger's Market.

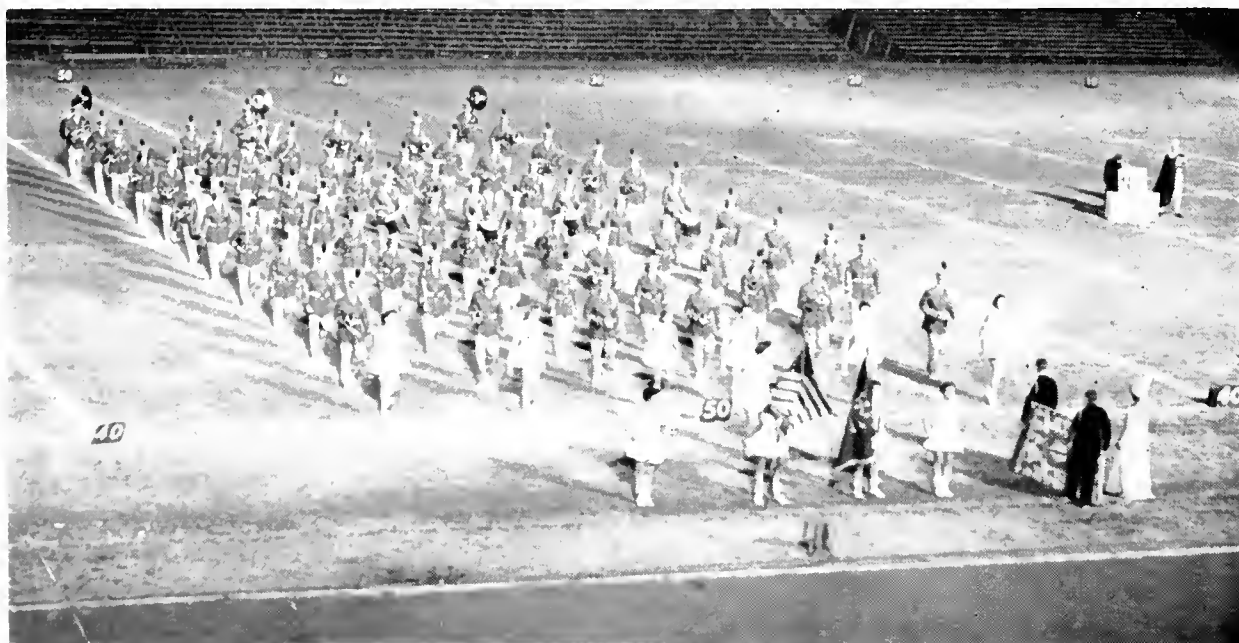

Before each home game, there is a pep session sponsored by some club. Bob Brosius seems to be in agony as he is being pulled across the gym by Carolyn Hawkins. These two seniors took part in one of the many pep sessions of the year.

We Benefited North Side

Every year the North Side Band participated in the State Band and Marching Contest. This year they played selections from well known Mother Goose Rhymes. A clever touch was added by several students dressed as Mother Goose characters.

This years Christmas Assembly was the first to be held in the gym. It proved to be a very memorable sight, not only in decorations, but in the spirit of North Siders. Many baskets of food and clothes were cheerfully donated by Redskins for needy families of Fort Wayne.

By School Spirit

"Our Redskins did it again!" . . . so it appears from the looks on the faces of these football fans, who witnessed many football thrillers this year.

We Sought to Uphold

Above: The cafeteria is an excellent place in which to exert good conduct.

Above: Dianne Lapp, Joyce Wehrenberg, Peggy Wilson, and Sue Borkenstein think that it's much easier to study for a test together than alone.

Left: A common sight seen every day in the hall is girls (such as Fay Dey) collecting the absent slips.

Below: Here, at the information desk, Barb Fall and Barb Arnold help Dolores Brown and Roxann Kain, find their way.

With cokes and Snoozy (the stuffed dog), Barb Modricker and Marilyn Cook seem to be enjoying their studies.

the Ideals of Our Schools

Redskins are proud of their school. On the banks of the St. Joe, North Side makes a very beautiful sight with its stately pillars, the Dome and the ivy scanning the walls.

At election time Globetrotters sponsor special taxi and baby-sitting service for voters. Here we see Tom Ball and Dave Myers looking anxiously on as Marcia Wible receives a call.

Jud Raver is showing his school spirit by destroying waste paper he found in the hall. The Big Dome's corridors look neat as a pin when students, such as Jud, are concerned with the appearance.

Plant and animal life are the subjects of study in BIOLOGY and BOTANY CLASSES. PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY also aids students in learning even more of the earth's secrets. A combination of theory and lab proves to make these courses very educating.

We Attended Classes . . .

The many experiments are carried on in the lab during a chemistry course. CHEMISTRY and PHYSICS CLASSES are available for students interested in science.

By aiding Redskins in preparing for careers in medicine, engineering, and science, MATH COURSES provide valuable training for the future.

Personality, dating, and marriage problems are discussed in FAMILY LIVING. In this course boys and girls learn to talk over their misunderstandings about manners, the opposite sex, and themselves.

Courses in METAL, WOOD and MECHANICAL DRAWING offer opportunities for Redskin boys to prepare for careers in engineering, or to become skilled in the use of machinery and tools.

CIVICS, ECONOMICS, HISTORY and SOCIOLOGY CLASSES open the eyes of the students to the everyday problems in modern life. Also, knowledge of the past helps greatly in understanding the present.

Here are pictured those lucky misses who are fortunate in being able to create all or part of the wardrobe. HOME EC COURSES at North offer excellent training for girls in fulfilling the requirements of being good homemakers.

Short stories, poetry, one act and full length plays are comprehensively studied in ENGLISH 7. Devices used in literature are illustrated by extensive study of various authors and by student produced plays.

... And Sometimes Hit the Books

Every student has at least one hour in STUDY HALL each week. For students who need reference material for term papers, or special reports, the LIBRARY is open daily.

Members of SPEECH and DRAMATIC CLASSES learn the basic principles of public appearance. Many students who have stage fright find that it is overcome through a speech course.

The study of FOREIGN LANGUAGES aids not only in the understanding of other languages but also of our own.

ART CLASSES help the student to develop self-expression through creation. The picturesque architecture and location of North Side offer excellent subject matter for Redskins.

The BUSINESS DEPARTMENT of North Side strives to give students a firm foundation in fundamentals of business practice by teaching streamlined office procedures.

For those students interested in the organ, a special lesson is provided by the MUSIC DEPARTMENT. Practicing is done in the auditorium during free periods.

Knowledge of the keyboard technique is becoming more and more necessary. Students find that TYPING aids in doing not only neater work, but also a more efficient job.

We Started New Fads

Slumberless slumber parties have been one of the most popular forms of entertainment for the gals of Domeland. Anita and Barbara Ward, Margie Silverman, and Judy Bullerman are having great fun bombarding Carol Johnson with pillows.

Representing the ordinary Redskin boy in the spring at "Bermuda Time", Ed Reader and Wally Fosnight smile pretty for the camera.

Many Redskins spend their noon hours at Johnny's eating hamburgers, fries, and drinking cokes or just having a gab fest.

and Repeated Old Ones

"What is shaped like a box, big as an ox, and flies?" Umm-mm-Bork! This riddle, among others kept Redskin minds going this year. Elvis Presley, Pat Boone, and Patience and Prudence sang hit tunes, such as "Don't be Cruel", "Friendly Persuasion", and "Tonight You Belong To Me". Harry Bellefonte introduced calypso music such as "Banana Boat Song". Popular movies were "War and Peace", "Oklahoma", "Teahouse of the August Moon", and "Giant".

Slumber parties, open houses, and eating pizza, were only a few of the many pastimes of energetic Redskins. Bermuda shorts and knee high socks, topped the list of spring fashions, while car coats and Ivy League styles were voted high in the fall. We retained many old fads, but as in every year, we invented many more new ones.

"Umm-m-m this pepperoni pizza." That is what these seniors seem to be saying as they enjoy the treat at "Cardone's." Pat Beck, Bob Brosius, Linda Schreve, Janice Stauffer, Kenny Slattery, and John Blocher are only a few who indulge in this pound-adding past time.

Top: In fair weather, picnics are a pleasant Domesland diversion. Not bothering to count their calories is this group of Redskins on a club picnic.

Bottom: Going steady has been popular custom for several years. The exchange of rings or sports charms is a typical sign of such an agreement.

We Relaxed,

Thousands of admiring adjectives are often heard by salesmen at Hefner's Chevrolet as Redskins invade the showroom. Critically examining a convertible are Sue Milner, Juanita Gard, Janet Montgomery, Sharon Chaffin, Richard Knapenburger, Dean Traster, and Barb Byall.

Typifying all Redskins preparing for the Junior or Senior Prom are Bonnie Schenher and Tim Arney. While she frantically tries to decide which jewelry to wear, Tim nervously awaits the answer of the door bell.

Studied, Partied . . . Even Goofed Off

A few moments of relaxation are enjoyed by students during their lunch periods. Groups gather outside the doors to chat while waiting for the bell to ring.

Miniature golf is one of the sport favorites of students at the Dome. Rhea Kittinger, Janet Loudermilk, and Ruth Demetroff look doubtfully as Tiger Gorrell tries for his hole in one (thousand).

The finale of the show was a grand performance of the Charleston. This spectacular brought to an end one of the greatest displays of talent that Redskins have ever seen.

We Displayed Our Hidden Talents at

Pre-performance jitters were experienced by all as they awaited their turn on the stage.

Dressed as a dreamer, Judy Rains sang a collection of romantic songs.

This year the teachers put on a tremendous "Who Dunnit?" skit. Not a word was spoken by the cast as they proceeded to solve the mystery.

Varsity Varieties

At one of the many rehearsals we caught Judy Stackhouse, Larry Hallaert, and Carolyn Hawkins going through the number "Down Among the Sheltering Palms."

Sue Lehman, Dan Fulkerson, John Stout, Mike Jones, and Louie Levin did a very clever pantomime of Beatrice Kay and the Bowery Boys.

Judy Rains, as Abby Brewster, entertains Rev. Harper, portrayed by Bob Burris. Norm Fletter, as Teddy Roosevelt, looks complacently on. Abby and her sister Martha had a strange hobby of poisoning old men.

Many properties were used in order to add atmosphere to the play. Working back stage at this task were Judy Bullerman and Judy Mass. Judy is talking to Julia Mathews, who portrayed Abby Brewster.

We Were Fascinated by "Arsenic and Old Lace"

Dick Mueller and Wally Fosnight try to decide how many bodies they have collected. Looking on are Julia Mathews and Linda Graef, who at the present hold the record.

It took hours of practice to perfect the play. Here Bob Brosius, Julia Mathews, and Kara Parker read through the script. Mr. Purkhiser stands by to give pointers.

Joe Johnson and Carolyn Hawkins look quite shocked as they learn from Judy Rains and Kara Parker that Joe is not a Brewster.

Competent Student Council

Behind many of the activities at North Side, is a group of students elected by their fellow classmates. This student governing body represents the ideal of democratic education and is responsible for the promotion of cooperation among the tribe and its chiefs.

The Council started its activities by electing

Bob Pence as its president. Phil Ducat, Marsha Adams, Dave Rinne, Phil Lockwood, and Bob Passwater, who were vice president, secretary, treasurer, sergeant-at-arms, and parliamentarian, assisted him throughout the year.

The Christmas crusade to aid needy families was the Council's biggest undertaking for the year. Get Acquainted Day and Courtesy Week were also among the many activities of this Council.

For one of their projects of the year, Student Council collected Christmas baskets for needy families.

Here we see a typical Council representative informing his home room of the current Student Council activities.

Boosters Keep Business Booming

The Boosters worked busily to satisfy the wants of hungry fans who flocked to the concession stands at our games. Throughout the year, these members shouldered the important job of building school spirit and taking care of food sales at games. At Sectional time, the Boosters expanded their program by making and selling pompoms and badges.

As a reward for work well done, pins, guards, and letters were awarded on a point basis. This year ten workers received such awards.

Officers who assisted Noel Whittern, advisor, were Don Shelly, president; Barry Brunson, vice president; Margie Chivington, secretary; Janice McMaken, point recorder; and Jim Arens, pep session chairman.

Receiving their just rewards from Mr. Whittern are Connie Brubaker, the only letter winner, and Phyliss Gordon, Margie Chivington, and Sharon Flynn. Standing are Gilbert Dove, Barry Brunson, Jim Arens, and Karen Knispel, all pin and guard winners.

Distributing their Sectional wares to loyal Redskins are Phylis Gordon, Sharon Flynn, Bill Phillips, Margie Chivington, and Judy Bullerman.

The toughest job is selling cokes and keeping the change straight at the same time as these members are finding out.

Jr. Red Cross Serves School, Community

Jr. Red Cross is an important service club to the community as well as a link between the school and the American Red Cross. This organization promotes greater understanding among the nations of the world, and provides for the well-being of those unfortunate localities which are recovering from disaster.

Aside from their Samaritan acts, the club sponsored a dance in February called "Cupid's Choice". The theme for the dance was centered around Valentines Day, and a king and queen were chosen to reign for the evening.

Officers for the second semester were Dianne Culbertson, Treasurer; Joe Johnson, President; Stu McMahan, Vice President; Marcia Wible, Secretary; and Phil Cantelon, Membership Chairman. Absent were, Paulann Hosler, Social Chairman; and Barbee Moriarty, Program Chairman. Officers for the first semester were: Joe Johnson, President; Stuart McMahan, Vice President; Paulann Hosler, Secretary; Diane Culbertson, Treasurer; Molly Dunigan, Social Chairman; Rita Whipple, Membership Chairman.

Future Teachers Assist Faculty

Accepting and backing new ideas is a sign of continual improvement in a group, and thus F.T.A. has shown its growth this year. For, added to an already broad student teaching program was the project of tutoring underclassmen.

Mr. Clarence Murray and Mrs. Mary Ann Chapman, advise the club and officers for the fall semester were Marsha Adams, president;

Pouring over material stressing new educational methods are officers for the spring semester, Nancy Cambridge, vice president, Kara Jane Parker, secretary, Linda Graef, president, and Ann Brewer, treasurer.

Sally Fleming, vice president; Sandra Schlatter, secretary; and Carolyn Ferry, treasurer.

Demonstrating the student teaching facet of F.T.A. is Molly Dunigan who took over a Freshman English class in the absence of Miss Thiele.

Helicon Members Enjoy Literary Study

In Helicon, students have a chance to review books and magazines, and discuss phases of literature that are not discussed in their regular English courses. This year's activities included a potluck, the Christmas program at the Irene Byron Sanatorium, and the book fair. Following these events were the Lincoln-Washington Day assembly, the Spring Tea, and Senior Farewell. Sponsors of the club are Miss Huffman and Miss Greenwalt. Officers for the second semester were Tom Koontz, president; Margie Silverman, vice president; Lee McMillen, secretary; Linda Graef, treasurer; Ed Feustel, program chairman; Sue Lehman, social chairman; Bonnie Briggs, membership chairman; Deanna Hockemeyer, point recorder; Phil Cantelon, Judy Moris, critics.

Pictured is a scene from the Christmas play which was presented by Helicon at the Infirmary. The play was a presentation of the Nativity Scene.

Guiding Globetrotters through the Fall semester were Mr. Young and Miss Rothenberger, advisors; and Dave Carpenter, treasurer; Bobbi Bash, President; Margie Silverman, Secretary; Stuart McMahan, Social Chairman, and Austin Brooks, vice president.

"All aboard for places unknown!" was the motto of this year's social science club. Through vivid programs, members were transported from the arid deserts of the Middle East to the wilds of the South American jungles. The Pan American Acquainted the school with the traditions of our South and Central American neighbors.

Youth Forum, and extension of Globetrotters, was formed this year to provide for interested members an opportunity to discuss current world and national affairs.

Projects included a Christmas party, the after-game dance, and a spring picnic. Officers for the spring term were: Margie Silverman, president; Sally Fleming, vice president; Barbara Modricker, secretary; Bob Burris, treasurer; Carole Pontius, Social Chairman; and Stuart McMahan and Darvin Johnson, Co-membership chairmen.

Senior Orators Inspire Junior Partners

Claiming many honors for North Side in speech work this year were the members of National Forensic League and Junior Forensic League.

N.F.L. is one of the few national honorary societies at North Side. Membership in this organization for debaters and public speakers requires the earning of at least twenty points in interschool and intraschool contests.

Officers for this year have been president, Sue Lehman; vice president, John Shoaff; secretary, Sarah Shideler; co-social chairmen, Letty Bryce and Lynn Rosenbaum. They were advised by Albert A. Coil.

Right on the heels of North Side's honorary speech club was J.F.L. The president for the first semester was Lynn Rosenbaum. Aiding her in her work were Sue Weil, vice president; Sue McNelly, secretary-treasurer; Sandy Lininger, social chairman; and Sharon Weeks, publicity chairman. The second semester officers were Sarah Shideler, Marty Thomas, Dick Graef, Marsha Grant, and Sue Weil, respectively.

First row: Roxanne Kain, Jackie Lamprecht, Barbara Hines, Marsha Grant, Lucy Fiechter, Phylis Gordon, Sue Weil, Lynn Rosenbaum, Sarah Shideler, Bev Beck, Natalie Lenz, Marty Thomas. Second row: Mr. Lee, advisor, Wally Williamson, Clark Smith, Tom Stoeckley, Elaine Ferrel, Madelyn Beberstein, Sandy Lininger, Paul Wehrenberg, Dick Graef, Tom Popp.

Braves Design Cars, Squaws Serve Library

Mr. Thompson, advisor of the club, helps the boys to use their imagination as they design model cars. The boys are working for awards given by the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. The first national award is a $5,000 scholarship. This year Pat Fletcher served as President; Dick Beckman, Vice-President; and Roland Adams, Secretary-Treasurer.

In North Side's Library, Miss Shroyer is assisted each semester by twenty-two helpers. The workers are proud to keep up the fine standard of efficiency that the Library has maintained throughout the years. Those helping in the spring were: Andrea Smart, Judith Brown, Kay Notestine, Sandra Jacquay, Barbara Manning, Diane Brandt, Roxann Kain, Judith McGuire.

Officers of J.C.L. First row: Sandy Webster, Sharon Weeks, Phil Cantelon, Forest Redding. Second Row: Barbara Hines, Tom White.

These members of J.C.L. are selling book covers to some other students. This project was originated by members last year, and has been exclusively theirs ever since.

Classicists Expand

"Look at us now!" say the venerable members of the old Junior Classic League. Not to be outdone by the Modern language Club, J.C.L. has also had a face-lifting. Formerly consisting of Juniors and Seniors taking advanced Latin, J.C.L. expanded this year to encompass all students enrolled in Latin Classes. This experiment will give an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of the old Roman culture.

Leading the club during the fall semester were John Shoaff, president; Phil Cantelon, vice president; Barbee Moriarty, secretary; Roy Butzier, treasurer; and Peg Wilson and Sharon Pratt, co-social chairman. Serving during the second semester were Phil Cantelon, Forrest Redding, Sharon Weeks, Sandy Webster, Mary Shaub, and Tom White respectively. In the capacity of advisors were Miss Lorraine Foster, Miss Judith Bowen, and Mrs. Majorie Spoolstra.

Los Sodales and Parmi Nos Ami Combine to Crash Language Barrier

The command of languages being the sign of a well-educated person, the Redskin tribesmen are offered many opportunities to improve themselves in that field. This year through the merging of the French and Spanish clubs into the Modern Language Club, these opportunities have been greatly enlarged. Officers of French Club for the fall were Steve Fawley, Barbara Ward, Anita Ward, Jeanne Doughty, and Sue

Jones. For the Spring were: Dianne Brandt, Steve Fawley, Carolyn Kelsey, Sue Jones, and Jeanne Doughty for president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and social chairman respectively. Serving Spanish Club were: Ron Macy, Annie Filleul, Sara Shideler, and Joyce Thomas for the Fall; and Janet Loudermilk, Patty Burns, Marsha Felbert and Judy Glock.

Hi-Y Braves Stress Character

Led by such outstanding Redskins as Dennis Oser, president; Dan Cunningham, vice president; Stuart Rahar, secretary; Bob Burris, treasurer; Bill Trulock, program chairman; and Tony Hafner, sergeant-at-arms Hi-Y has striven to uphold the ideals and purposes for which it was established. Through programs emphasizing the development of Christian character, the members become better able to assume a responsible role in their communities.

"Cut Rate Capers II" was the theme of the annual dance sponsored by Hi-Y. This dance, now becoming a tradition, features an admission price of 99c (providing one has correct change.) Most of the money raised through the dance and other projects goes to the World Service Fund sponsored by the YMCA.

Several members are shown exerting a little elbow grease on Miss Gross's car as an ad for their car wash.

Polar-Y Girls Busy Themselves with Projects

There is never a dull moment in the life of a Polar Y member, for between meetings there are numerous activities to stimulate an interest in civic life and in Christian living. Y-Teen conferences, both local and national, were held each season of the year; North Side was well represented at each. To finance those delegates, Tournament Twirl, the annual Sectional dance, and potato chip sale were undertaken by the club. Climaxing the year's activities were the annual banquet, the Faculty Tea, and the Mother and Daughter Senior Farewell.

Working under the direction of Miss Lorraine Foster and Miss Marjorie Bell were these officers for the fall semester: Janet Osborn, president; Ruth Oliver, vice president; and Sherrie Tarnow, secretary-treasurer. Serving the second semester were Ruth Oliver, Stephany Houck, and Kay Regedanz, respectively.

Reaping in some of the profits from Sandy Smith and Sherrie Anderson in their potato chip sale are Stephanie Houck and Sally Eulitt.

Seated are the active officers for the fall semester: Sherrie Tarnow, Janet Osborn, and Ruth Ann Oliver.

Checking a target are: Ray Davis, David Foster, Mr. Ivy, Bob Rodger, and Rex Cecil.

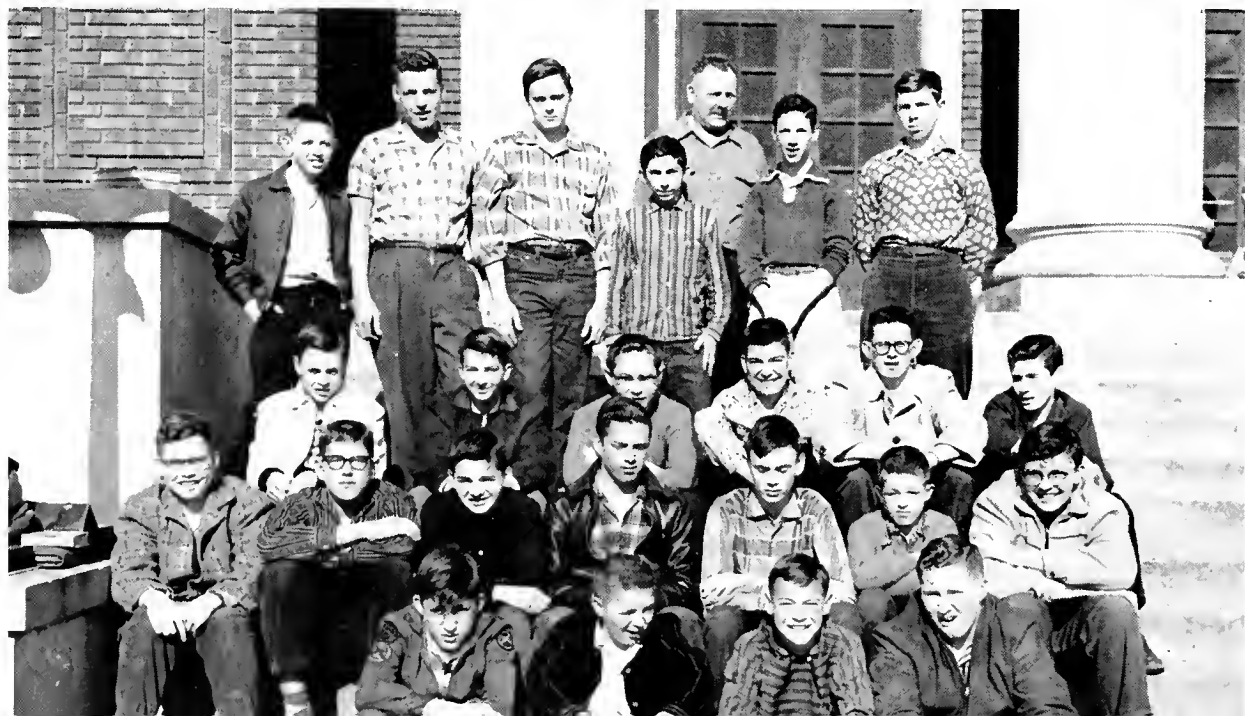

Taking aim are: George Goeglein, Kenny Wall, Jim Barnard, Don Steffen, and Les Barnard.

North Side Boys have the wonderful advantage of having a safe place to shoot as well as a qualified instructor. Mr. Ivy gives the boys the chance to aim at targets instead of birds. The boys are taught the correct procedures for holding, firing, and caring for a rifle. Sportsmanship and fellowship are encouraged. The members all belong to the National Rifle Association. Officers this year were George Goeglein, Don Steffen, Mike Spillson, and Larry Gilpin.

Position! Aim! Fire!

These girls are learning to be good marksmen under the expert direction of Mr. Ivy. Mr. Ivy teaches the girls safety measures and safe handling of the rifles. The girls also learn better sportsmanship. Last but not least the girls learn to become sharp on the trigger and good marksmen. They work for awards given by the National Rifle Association. One of the laws of the Code of Junior Riflemen they learned was "I will play it safe at any time when I am in doubt of the proper action with a gun."

Mr. Ivy helps the girls to practice to take aim. The girls are Keana Hungertford, Lucille Feichter, and Linda Ruch.

Phy Chem Arouses Interest of Scientists

A loud explosion and a spine chilling scream mean that North's youthful scientists are learning their lessons from their capable teachers. On the third Thursday of every month students of physics and chemistry, may be seen creating concoctions in room 233. Assisting them in their smogs and smells are Harold Thomas and Sherman Pressler.

The purpose of this club is to stimulate a greater interest in physics and chemistry, and to give students an opportunity to express their interests, and to work with others who have the same aspirations.

Activities for the year included: the Christmas party, dance, and pep session. Officers for the first semester were president, Rich Johnson; Vice president, Denny Oser; Secretary, Bob Burris; Treasurer, Ted Mortenson; Social Chairman, Jim Lewis.

Planning the second semesters activities are President, Bob Burris; Social chairman, Bob O'Brien; Secretary, Karen Ellenwood; Treasurer, Virginia Pae; and Vice President, Anita Ward.

Seemingly enjoying the annual Christmas party are a few of the Phy Chem members and their advisors.

Nature Club, sponsored by Miss Vesta Thompson and Mr. Clifford Ott, enables its members to gain a better knowledge of the out-of-doors and wild life. On the agenda during the warm months are hikes and trips. When the weather does not permit such outside activity, members view films, examine collections, and work on their own projects.

This year several members entered exhibits in the Science Fair in April and received honors in their fields.

Officers for the complete year were Peg Wilson, president; Phil Lockwood, vice-president; and Carol Blessing, secretary.

Band Proves Worthy of Honors

Under the direction of William C. Hatt, the North Side Band has come to be an organization that fills each student's heart with pride and joy. This year the band has been busy playing and performing on the gridiron, marching in civic parades, providing music for the basketball games, and giving concerts. Aside from these activities, the band competed in many contests, always arriving on top with highest honors.

However, not all is work for the Redskin band members, for at the closing of this school year, on April 15, the members enjoyed their annual band trip. This year the members traveled to Griffith and Gary.

At noon on the football field, North's band is making formations of Mother Goose Rhymes for one of their contests.

Resting between songs, the band members are intently watching one of North's basketball games.

"Practice makes perfect," so it has been said. Here we see North's orchestra practicing for a concert.

Mr. Hatt, director of the orchestra and band, gives some instructions to one of the members of orchestra. Listening intently is Rhea Kittinger.

Orchestra Provides Music For Enjoyment

From Leroy Anderson to Beethoven, the Redskin orchestra has attained for itself many well deserved honors. Aside from receiving these honors for itself, the orchestra has provided enjoyment for not only the student body but the entire community.

This year, under the capable direction of Mr. William C. Hatt, the group performed fine musical selections at concerts and student as-semblies. The Redskin orchestra has also participated in many contests, always receiving well deserved rewards.

For the talented Redskin instrumentalists, this has been a most promising year. By increasing its membership and its repertoire, this fine musical organization will continue to provide further enjoyment for the student body and the community.

Entire Tribe Takes Pride in Choirs

Suffering through the inevitable initiation given each year by returning Choir members are these first year martyrs.

Under the direction of Miss Jeanette Rich, this year's A Cappella Choir was kept extremely busy with recordings, various seasonal concerts, and the Choir trip. Although extensive rehearsal time is required, the results are well worth the time.

For the first time the Choir elected officers to manage the group more efficiently. Those chosen were Jim Miller, president; Dave Rinne, vice president; and Mona Zirkle, secretary.

A highlight of the Christmas banquet was the presenting of this gift to Miss Rich in appreciation for her tireless efforts throughout the year.

Accepting an important concert engagement is Miss Jeanette Rich, the director of the A Cappella Choir and the various choirs and chorus classes.

Here we see Varsity Choir demonstrating concert formation.

Future choir members gain experience through participation in the Varsity and Girls' Choirs. These two vocal groups combined their talents with the A Cappella for several concerts throughout the year.

Training Choirs Train A Cappella Hopefuls

Practicing for all they are worth in hopes of being chosen for next year's A Cappella Choir are these chorus class members.

Chansonettes: Nancy Cambridge, Ruth Tennell, Judy Rains, Deanna Hockemeyer, Mona Zirkle, Sue Lehman, Janet Osborn, Barb Modricker, and Barbee Moriarity.

Versatility, Vivacity Characterize Ensembles

Adding color to North Side's music department are the Chansonettes and the Triple Trio. These groups, composed of nine outstanding singers each chosen from A Cappella members, devote one period a day, in addition to the Choir period, toward perfecting their routines.

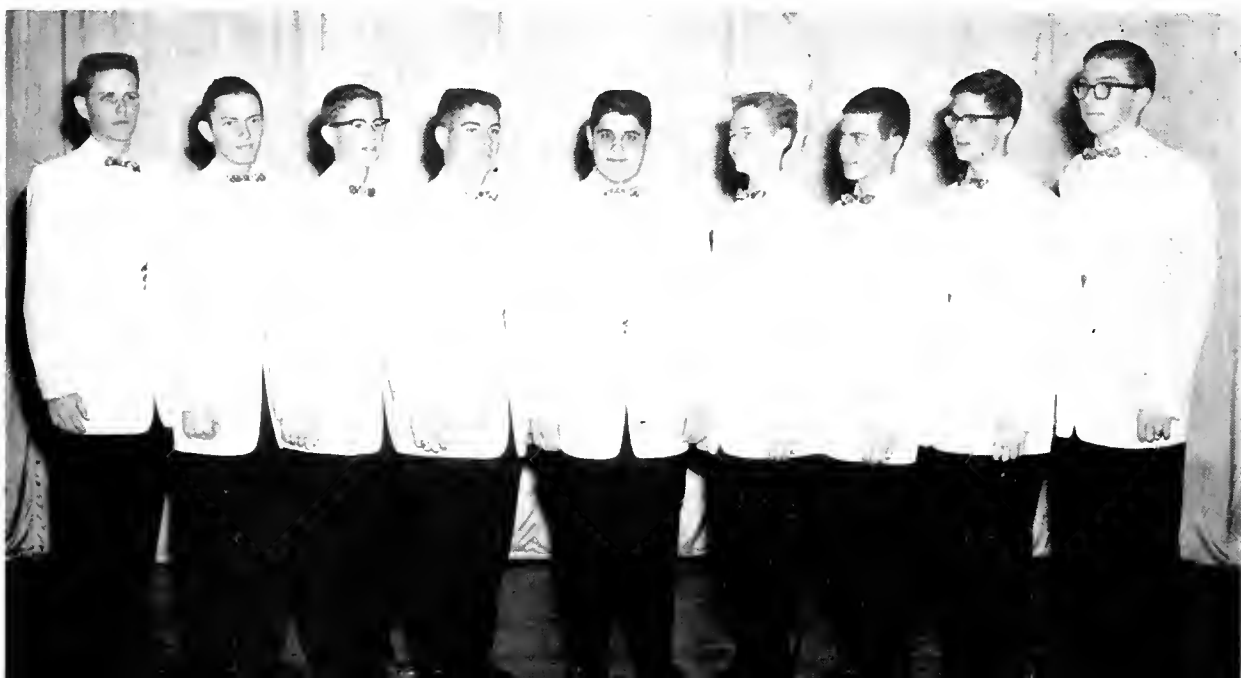

Outfitted in natty new costumes, the two ensembles performed with unusual vigor. Obtaining firsts in the state contest evidenced the talent of both groups and proved that efforts bring forth high rewards.

Both groups made many appearances at social gatherings and school activities as well as appearing on several radio and television shows.

Adding style to the arrangements for the two groups were Barbara Modricker and Dave Murrel, accompanists of the Chansonettes and Triple Trio respectively.

Triple Trio: Dave Rinne, Neil Byrt, Dan Cunningham, D. J. Bojrab, Bill Maloley, Phil Ross, Dave Myers, Phil Cantelon, and Jim Miller.

Varsity Band and Twirlers Perform for Redskins

Varsity Band, led by Mr. Hatt, consists of freshmen and beginning students in music who are training for North's concert band. The primary function of this organization is to give the members experience in ensemble playing.

This year the members have participated in several concerts, and performed with the concert band at football games.

The twirlers, under the direction of Mr. Hatt, is one of the busiest and most colorful organizations of North Side. Cynthia Orcutt was head twirler for the 1957 sports year. By performing at each home game they do much to keep alive school spirit.

New Key Club Meets at Noon

Inasmuch as many boys have after-school activities, Mr. Bickel, the sponsor of the newly-formed Key Club, set the meeting time for noon. This type of organization was formed to acquaint boys with other clubs like Rotary, Lions, and Optimist. Officers for the year were: Ron Easley, President; Steve Gresley, vice-president; and Jim Nahrwold, Secretary-treasurer.

Camera Club Educates Shutter-bugs

North Siders interested in any phase of photography are eligible to join Camera Club. This organization provides an excellent opportunity to develop a very enjoyable hobby.

Occasionally members take field trips to view the latest techniques in taking and developing pictures. North Side possesses excellent photography equipment for use of members.

Officers for the year were Mike Fanger, president; Becky Coolman, vice-president; and Larry Christlieb, secretary-treasurer.

Officers: Alice Baumgartner, Vice president; Jim Link, Parliamentarian; Sandra Schlatter, Treasurer; Sharon Bramblett, Secretary; and Ted Mortenson, President.

North Side Instrumentalists is the backbone of the instrumental music department. The club performs many services such as putting on the annual department Christmas party. Membership in N.S.I. is invitational, pledges being selected by the members at the beginning of each semester. These pledges are known as "Spikes".

Students Pursue Interests: Music, Drama

National Thespians, under the direction of Mr. James Purkhiser, is an honorary educational club created for the purpose of the advancement of dramatic arts in secondary school. Another goal of this organization is to create a more active interest in dramatics among both students and faculty.

Membership in this club is awarded to students who have gained special recognition for achievements in the dramatic arts program. It is considered an honor by both faculty and students.

Honorary Journalistic Clubs Provide Goals

The first goal to be attained by a student journalist is membership in 1500 Club. Any Northerner staff member is eligible to join after earning fifteen hundred points. Additional awards for achievement in writing, editing, or business management are the bronze pin, the silver pin, the gold pin, the gold-jeweled pin, and the school letter.

The supreme goal for staff members is Quill and Scroll, a national honorary organization for upperclassmen in this field. Selections are made from journalists in the top one-third of their class by the national executive secretary of Quill and Scroll. Nominations are made according to the recommendation of North's advisor, Miss Norma Thiele and samples of the applicant's work. This year six seniors and one junior were presented the coveted award at the annual publication banquet in January.

Legend Staff Plans Great Yearbook

Plans for this year's yearbook began last summer when editor-in-chief, Bob Passwater, and assistant editor, Carol Johnson, attended a high school journalism clinic at I.U. It was here that they originated the theme "Throughout the Year". Following this, with the assistance of the advisor, Miss Norma Thiele, they chose the members of both the major and minor staffs. Since that time, hours of hard work and many headaches have produced what the staff hopes to be, the greatest yearbook ever.

As a money making project, the staff sponsored a dance in November, entitled "Gobble Hobble". The decorations dealt entirely with Thanksgiving.

Now after months of preparation the staff proudly presents to you the Legend of 1957.

Above. Sipping cider through a straw are John Duxbury and Carolyn Ferry, seniors with the best sense of humor.

Below. Gazing into each other's eyes with mutual admiration are the seniors who possess the prettiest eyes, Judy Stackhouse and Steve Hand.

Above. Filing in the offices is only one of the many contributions Austin Brooks and Margie Silverman performed to attain the honor of being voted the seniors with the most service to school.

Above right. Passing through the "door of opportunity", Bobbi Bash and Dave Carpenter intend to live up to the honor of being elected by their classmates Most likely to succeed.

Right. Molly Dunigan is trying to show Pete Lundell the proper way to tee off; they were voted the best athletes of this years' class.

Right. Carol Rodenbeck reveals her techniques for care of her brilliant golden tresses, as John Wiersch provides a willing (?) patient. The two were voted to have the prettiest hair.

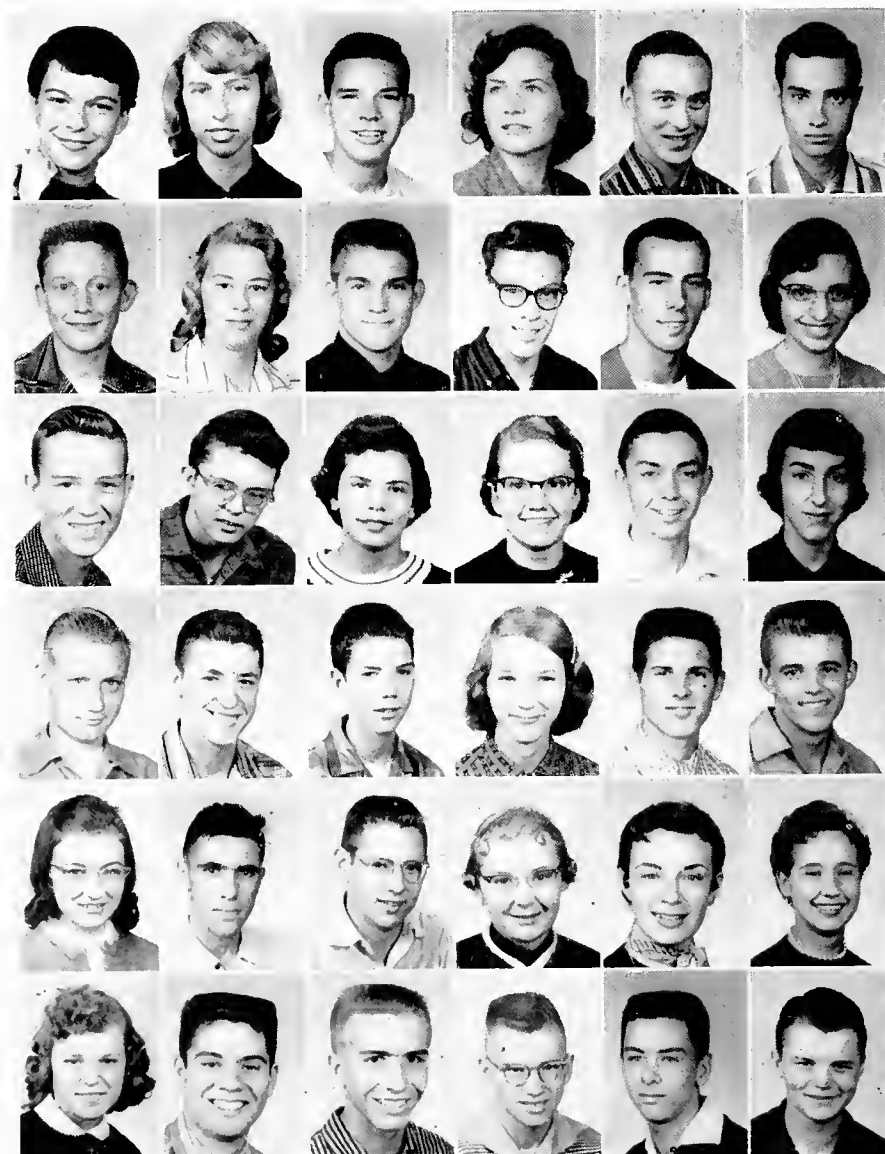

Below middle. Best boy speaker in the class of 1957, Joe Johnson is working hard to outtalk the best girl orator, Carol Johnson, who won't give up without a fight.

"All work and no play makes Suzie a dull girl", but Rosellen Messerschmidt, Daisy Gore, Judy Brown, Carol LaHurreau, Mary Hagerfield, and Marcia Grant are seeing that they won't be in such a position.

The plight of all new comers to North is the freshmen tests. Here we see part of the class busy at work trying to do their best during the hours they must spend in the cafeteria.

It's lunchtime and at the milk machine we see Roy Strohl, Carolyn Kelsey, Marla Kern, and Sue High.

Faculty

At the head of our school system for five years has been Superintendent of Schools Aaron T. Lindley. From his busy office, Mr. Lindley has managed the affairs of all the schools in the city. Even with his heavy daily schedule, which includes trips all over Fort Wayne, Mr. Lindley always seems to find time to visit North Side. He is always willing to lend a helping hand wherever it is needed.

The P. T. A.'s aim for amicable relations between teachers and parents is accomplished by the hard work of its officers. Shown sitting, left to right are Mrs. William Miller, first Vice President; Mrs. Robert Passwater, President; and Mrs. Wayne Koontz, Treasurer; and standing are Mr. Robert Zimmerman, second Vice President; and Mrs. Harold Beck, Secretary.

During the four years Principal O. Dale Robertson has been at North Side, he has become an invaluable member of our faculty. In spite of all his necessary work, such as leading our faculty meetings, Mr. Robertson has time to help students with their problems.

Although Miss Victoria Gross, North Side's Dean of Girls, is one of the busiest members of our faculty, she never fails to take time out to talk with students or to give advice when needed. Her pleasing smile, kindly personality, and cheerful helpfulness mark our Dean of Girls.

Equally busy on our faculty staff is Mr. Clarence Murray, North Side's Dean of Boys. Mr. Murray finds time to participate as an F. T. A. advisor besides advising students about their vocational or personal problems.

Gridders Dominate All-City Squad

The All City Team was completely dominated by the Cowanmen, having seven out of the first eleven. Gridders on the team included ends, Dave Carpenter, and Larry Rodocker; center, Phil Lockwood; guard, Phil Ducat; halfback, Pete Lundell; fullback, Don Nuerge; and quarterback Don Stager. Guard Doug Glock and junior tackles Tom Siefert and John Shoppell represented North on the All City second team. The Northern Indiana Conference team gave honorable mention to backs Don Nuerge and Don Stager, and guard Austin Brooks.

An exciting play brings the reserve Redskins up off of the bench.

No gain for opposition! North's gang tackling again successfully halts the ball carrier.

Honary co-captains Dan Stager and Pete Lundell discuss rules with the opposing captain and officials before the game.

Dale Zumbaugh, speedy junior halfback, clips off another five yards for the 'Skins.

The Red and White realize football isn't all "hearts and flowers" as the teams pile up in a pool of mud.

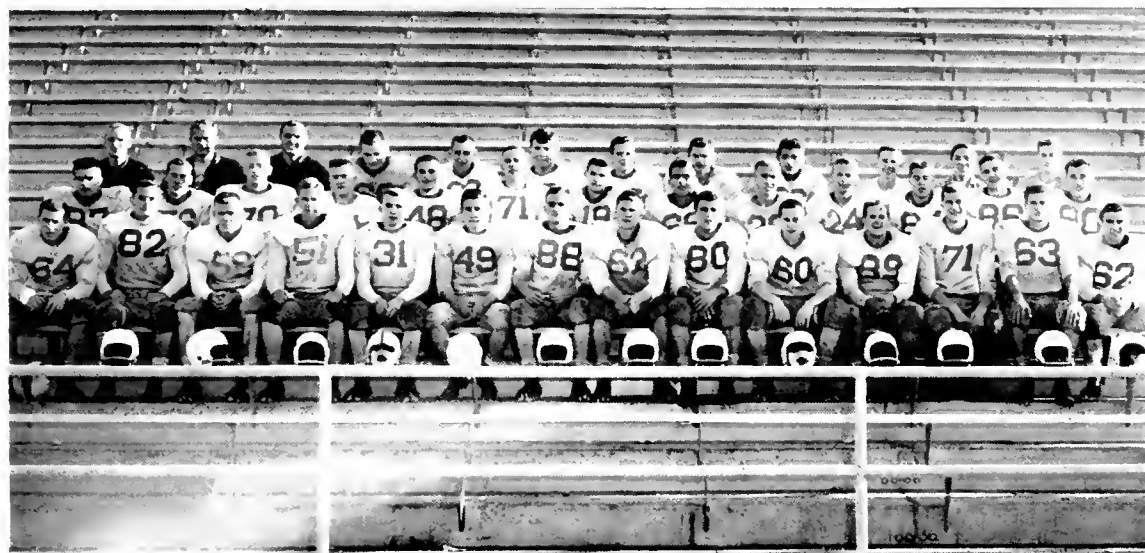

Pre-season expectations of the North Side grid machine were easily reached under the able coaching of Bob Cowan. The Cowanmen posted a six and three record, conquering all three of their city foes while losing three out of six in the rugged Northern Indiana Conference games.

Defensive, halfbacks Don Stager and Don Nuerge, come up fast to assist the linemen in the tackle.

A tired, but happy, Redskin team rejoices after winning the City Crown.

Leading the pack, Ed Evans crosses the finish line. Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it's Frank Geist warming up for an important meet. Ed and Frank were voted this year's captains by their team mates.

Ed Evans, Frank Geist Lead Harriers

Full steam ahead! A large pack starts out on the Franke Park course.

Being hit hard by graduation, North's tennis team responded well to their rugged schedule. The Netmen were victorious in four of their ten meets. Leon Kennedy, hard smashing senior, was elected honorary captain by his team mates.

A score for the 'Skins! That's the way the old ball bounces when Steve Eninger backs up Leon Kennedy in a doubles match.

Steve Hofer serves while Forest Redding awaits the return in another doubles match.

Netters Victorious in Four Meets

Coach Myron Henderson is looking forward to another powerful team next season, as he loses only Leon Kennedy and Steve Eninger by graduation. Returning racqueteers include Steve Williams, Gerald Swinford, John Johnson, and Forest Redding.

Forest Redding, Steve Eninger, Steve Williams, Steve Swank, and Steve Hofer gather around the drinking fountain after a hard match on the Lake Side Courts.

Captain Leon Kennedy warms up for a crucial singles match.

Coach Don Bruick points out a result on this year's Sectional chart, to Bob Edwards, and Eab Traster.

Cagers Boast

North Side's Redskins emerged from a long, hard-fought campaign with a none too impressive record of no wins and eighteen losses. The cagers played a better brand of ball than their season's record indicates. A few games were very close up to the sound of the final gun. A bright spot of the campaign was North's victory over a rugged Peru team in the Holiday Tournament. In the sectionals, North drew their highly rated cross-town rivals, the South Side Archers. The Braves kept the Archers worried during the first half, but the Green rallied on to win the contest and the tournament. Eight of the season foes of the 'Skins advanced all the way to the semi-finals of the state tournament.

Since there were many new faces in the 'Skin's camp, Coach Don Bruick was confronted with the task of rebuilding. Bill Ortlieb is one of the members of the team that will be lost by graduation. With many Cagers returning and several promising boys coming up from the successful freshman and reserve teams, Coach Bruick is expecting a stronger team next season. Other lettermen lost by graduation include Pete Lundell, Don Stager, and Tim Arney.

Senior Bill Ortlieb leaps high to can another two points for the Redskin cause.

The mile relay was composed of Pete Lundell, Don Nuerge, Dave Lang, and Ron Bowman, all juniors.

'56 State Champs

With all but two of his state championship team returning, Coach Rolla Chambers was looking forward to another great track season.

The Redskins were expected to retain the coveted State Crown. The 1957 team was packed with power in every department.

Sophomore shot putter, Tom Seifert, took sixth in the state meet.

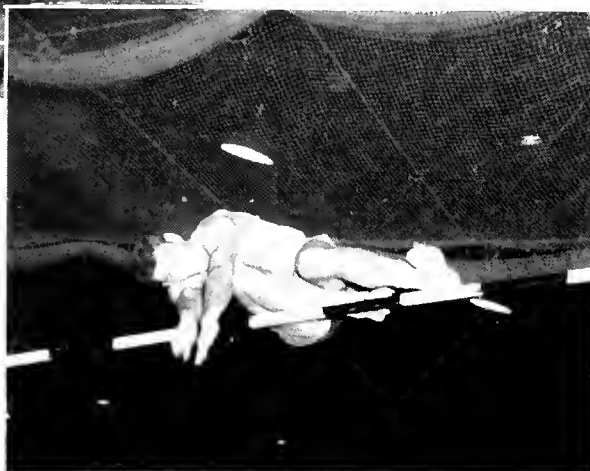

Half-miler Frank Geist took second in the state meet as a junior.

Frank Geist and Jim Hattery are out in front in a close race.

High jumper, Bill Ortlieb, clears the bar with perfect form.

Ed Reader and Don Nuerge provided the one-two punch for the 'Skins in the sprints.

A good baton pass in the mile relay from Pete Lundell to Ron Bowman.

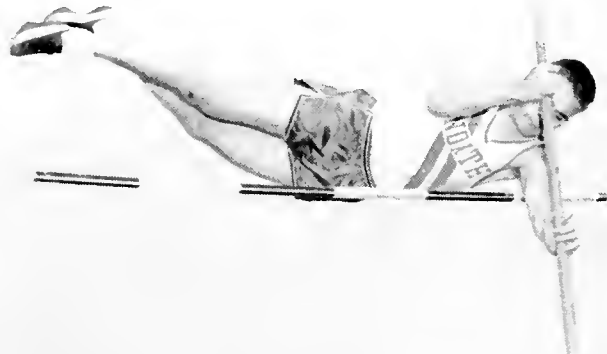

Keen competition, between milers Tom Martin and Bill Ewing is being displayed in this race.

Dave Lang and Bill Ortlieb collect more points for the Redskins.

It looks like another good jump for Duane Gordon.

Cloud-duster, Don Stager, is up and over.

Cheerleaders this year were: Nancy Parker, Bonnie Braun, Captain Mona Zirkle, Carole Pontius, and Carol Winkler.

Yell Leaders Promote

Working with the cheering block and their advisor Mrs. Mary Nold, the yell leaders have strived diligently to strengthen the Redskin rooting section. The cheerleaders are to be commended not only for their guidance during the basketball and football games, but also for their leadership in all of the pep sessions. Chosen by a group of judges the varsity cheerleaders were Mona Zirkle, Carole Pontius, Bonnie Braun, Carol Winkler, and Nancy Parker.

The Cheering Block members added a dash of color to each game, not only by their colorful uniforms (red ties and gloves), but also by their clever cheers. Many a student will remember "Crazy Team Crazy" which was some what of a theme cheer for the block.

The Cheerleaders do much to create enthusiasm and further school spirit.

Mona Zirkle and Bonnie Braun leap high to end a cheer.

The Cheering Block added a lot of color to the Sectional Tournament again this year.

School Spirit

The Girl's Cheering Block not only helped boost school spirit but also provided new zest and life to the games.

Bob Cowan throws in the ball for a rough and tumble game of soccer.

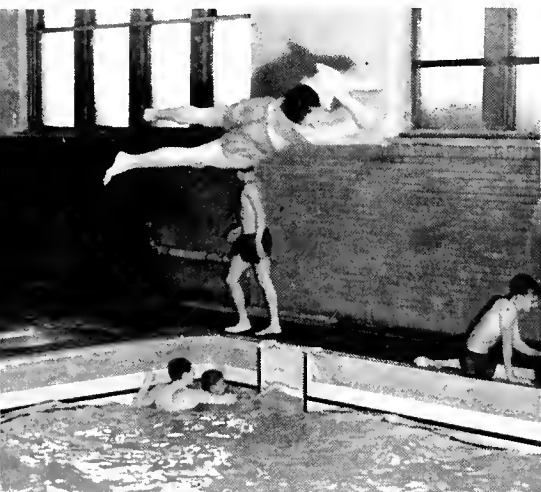

Work on the parallel bar helps these boys build strong and healthy bodies.

Gym Classes Help Build Strong Bodies

A free swim is being enjoyed by the members of this swimming class.

Don Bruick is organizing a gym class so that it might begin it's activities for the semester.

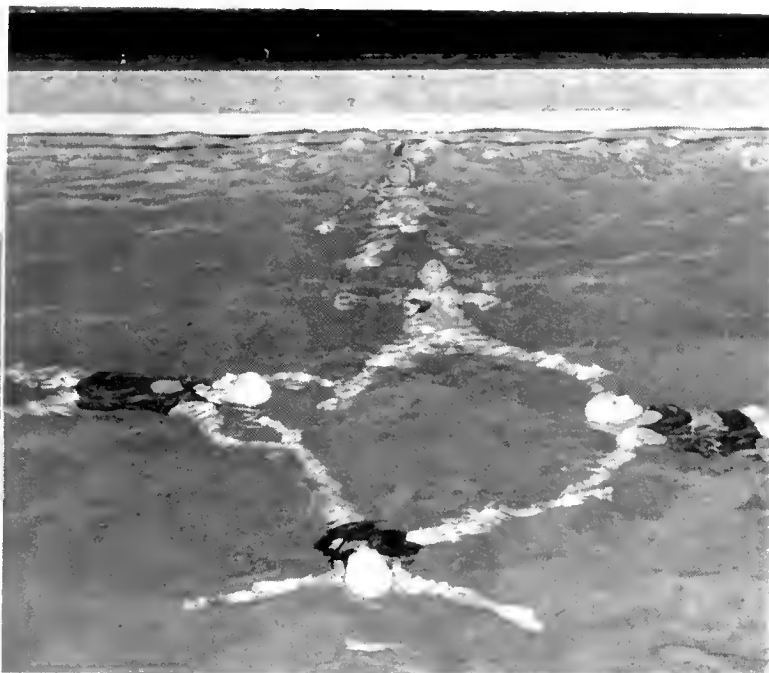

Even if a boy is not capable of playing on a varsity team, he is able to participate in various sports through physical education classes. These classes which meet three times a week cover such activities as volleyball, track, basketball, wrestling, tumbling, softball, and swimming. North Side's physical education classes are helping to build our "men of tomorrow".

Paddle Boards help these boys develop greater skill in swimming.

Just one of the many different types of dives that the members of Ripplettes perform in their annual water show.

Ripplettes Demonstrate Precision

Members of Ripplettes are First Row: M. Dunigan, C. Pontius, C. Blitz, B. Popp, L. Keller, M. Thompson, B. Garr, Second Row: B. Fall, J. Stackhouse, J. Wehernberg, V. Poe, A. Ward, D. Beherns, R. Jackson, R. Dunton.

Under the able assistance of Miss Spiegel and Miss Carroll, and the help of student officers, Girls Athletic Association, better known as G.A.A. completed another successful year. This organization is more than ever helping those girls who have an active interest in sports by sponsoring many supervised activities. These include volleyball, tennis, badminton, swimming, bowling, tumbling, softball, track, archery, and basketball. Besides posting an athletic program, G.A.A. also has a host of social activities each year. Among these are formal initiation potluck, freshman party, an after game dance, and the spring banquet. These activities give each of the girls the opportunity for responsibility. The ideas of G.A.A. are threefold in form—sportsmanship, loyalty, and health.

Girl Athletes Participate in Varied Sports

Badminton provides a fast moving and exciting activity for the girls.

Pingpong is one of the many games enjoyed by the members of G.A.A.

These girls are developing grace and poise by participating in modern dance routines.
